Dear Andrew,

I am writing this letter to express to you my appreciation and gratitude for the excellent way in which you have coached me in operating my business over the past few weeks.

I must admit that I have been very impressed with how quickly you developed a feeling for our business, and with how quickly you were able to identify areas where improvement and changes were needed. I particularly appreciate the way in which you have made practical suggestions, and patiently coached us to make the necessary improvements and changes.

I have also been impressed with your extensive knowledge of the many different aspects of business that you have helped us with. We are already seeing results and benefits from following your guidance and implementing your suggestions. I am eagerly looking forward to seeing even more impressive results in the future, as we continue to work together.

I will not only continue to use your services, but I would definitely highly recommend Advance Business Strategies, to anyone who could benefit from professional business coaching services. Thanks again for your professional help!

Yours sincerely,

Glen Gillett
